aneemo

CASE STUDY

Thames Valley Police and Crime Commissioners Office x aneemo

Delivered in partnership by aneemo and No One Left Out

aneemo

CHALLENGE:

Supporting prison leavers requires a collaborative, multi-agency approach, often under pressure and balancing individuals' high risk and complex needs.

As part of the Ministry of Justice Restart pilot, Thames Valley needed training to equip cross-sector staff to work in a more trauma-informed and psychologically informed way.

SWIPE TO SEE THE APPROACH

aneemo

THE APPROACH

The programme included:

- Bespoke blended delivery (live in-person + online sessions)
- Reflective practice manager sessions
- Two bespoke video-based LMS courses
- Training promotion, onboarding, quality assurance, accreditation and evaluation

SWIPE TO SEE THE RESULTS

aneemo

OUTCOMES:

TOGETHER WE HAVE:

- Assisted Thames Valley's pioneering work towards embedding a trauma-informed Criminal Justice ecosystem.
- A total of 1,500 licences were provided for cross-sector staff
- 196 colleagues actively engaged across prison, probation and charity partners
- Improved cross-agency understanding and insight to better support people leaving prison

SWIPE TO SEE NEXT STEPS

aneemo

NEXT STEPS

Thames Valley Police have continued to expand their training offer, purchasing additional licences for Working with Women with Multiple Disadvantage to strengthen workforce development across the force.